Position Duration:	10 weeks
Benefits Eligibility:	Not benefits eligible

Role Overview

Summer Seminar Factotums are residential counselors and teaching assistants who work in pairs to facilitate the Telluride Association Summer Seminar (TASS), a free, six-week educational experience for high school students.

About TASS: The TASS program consists of intellectually rigorous academic seminars intended to transform how students understand and participate in the world, and a thoughtful group-living environment where students explore the principles of democratic community and broader community engagement. Seminars focus either on Critical Black Studies (TASS-CBS) and the constitution of Black learning communities, or on Anti-Opressive Studies (TASS-AOS) and the use of power, race, and oppression as frameworks to explore topics in the humanities and social sciences.

Seminars are six-weeks long and typically have 12-16 students, two Factotums, and two Faculty instructors. Each site is managed by a Site Supervisor who oversees summer employees. In 2023, five seminars will be held at Cornell University, the University of Maryland, and the University of Michigan. The Telluride Association recruits students who demonstrate significant interest in intellectual and democratic frameworks grounded in equity and inclusion. BIPOC students and those who have experienced economic hardship are prioritized for selection and Black students are specifically prioritized for the TASS-CBS community.

About the Factotum Role: The Factotum team provides primary oversight for students for the duration of the program. Factotums manage residential life for students, ensure their well-being during the program, and help them form an inclusive, intentional community. During the spring, hired Factotums will write a welcome letter to students to help them prepare for the core aspects of the program, will work with professors to identify and order seminar materials, and will organize orientation activities for students. Those selected for the Factotum position must attend a virtual training in the spring and an in-person training two weeks prior to the start of the program.

Throughout the course of the program, Factotums will serve as a resource for student questions and be available to address pressing student issues after-hours. Factotums introduce and help students structure town hall-style community meetings to jump start students' democratic self-governance. Those hired are responsible for guiding students in the creation of an inclusive environment for students of all genders, races, sexualities, and other identity categories; this should include discussions of how students account for this within their self-governance. Factotums will also be responsible for learning to facilitate community accountability and transformative justice practices and helping students implement these practices in their community. In addition to ensuring a safe and respectful atmosphere, Factotums provide logistical support to help student committees plan activities. After the end of the program, Factotums write a detailed program report and student evaluations.

Key Relationships: Factotums are supervised by a Site Supervisor and collaborate closely with their seminar's faculty, co-factotum and any other factotums present at the site.

Qualifications

If you believe you would excel in this role despite not meeting every qualification, we welcome your application. Please explain in your cover letter what and how you would contribute.

- Review program budget, previous summer's reports, and TASSer information.
- Assist seminar professors in ordering books and assembling course packets before the start of the summer program.
- Work with the faculty to ensure that the cost of all requested materials, Academic Affairs (AccAffs) and field trips does not exceed the allotted budget.
- Recruit guest lecturers (one per week), and required training presenters before the start of the summer program.
- With co-factotum, prepare an orientation letter and optional rooming survey for the TASSers by Apr 14, 2023.
- Work with office staff and TASSers to arrange ground transportation for arrivals.
- Participate in an orientation meeting with your Board liaisons, faculty, Telluride staff, and co-factotum.
- Set up the program site, including cleaning and furniture setup, from Jun 20-Jun 24, 2023.
- Wind down the program site, including cleaning and furniture reset, book and equipment returns, and other closing tasks, from Aug 10, 2023.
- Submit a financial report, general program report, individual reports for each TASS student, and Factotum Training Committee's post-program survey no later than September 1 following the program.

Program Administration - 15%

- Reside at the residence where TASS participants are housed from Jun 20-Aug 10, 2023.
- Administer the TASS, represent the interests of Telluride Association, enforce TASS policies, and ensure the welfare of the students entrusted to your care, in accordance with the policies set forth in the TASS Factotum Handbook
- Assist in recruiting TASS students for other Telluride programs and host institutions.
- With co-factotum, procure host university IDs and library access for program participants, schedule an official university tour and admissions presentation for TASSers during the program, and collaborate with Site Supervisor to manage any other university logistics.
- Ensure that candid photos and group photos are taken and shared with the office.
- Ensure that TASSers complete program evaluations prior to the end of the program.
- Communicate professionally with parents about student needs and program logistics as needed, both before and during the program.
- Maintain regular contact with site liaisons and Telluride Association staff (e.g., scheduling weekly phone check-ins, coordinating liaison visits to the program, taking the lead on crisis communications).
- Track summer program budgets, retain receipts for all expenditures, and maintain contact with the Financial Manager throughout the program for support. Turn in receipts to the Site Supervisor prior to leaving at the end of the program.

Community Facilitation - 45%

- Ensure that students understand and abide by program policies.
- Ensure a respectful and inclusive atmosphere for participants of all genders, races, sexualities, abilities, and other identity categories.
- Supervise students in all daily activities, and schedule activities as needed (for instance, kitchen clean-ups, Cafe Telluride, community service, informal excursions, or other activities determined by the factotum team).
- Schedule and facilitate a public speaking (PubSpeak) program. Deliver a 20-minute PubSpeak in the first week.
- Facilitate students' use of democratic self-governance by organizing and facilitating town hall-style community meetings and providing supervision as they plan their activities.
- With co-factotum, meet with students individually by the end of Week 3 to discuss their experience of the program so far.
- Be available to address student issues at any time. Respond appropriately to student social, emotional, behavioral, health, and safety issues. Facilitate transformative justice approaches as needed.

Academic Seminar Support - 25%

- Assist seminar faculty before and during the program, in the ways described in the TASS Handbook. Meet with faculty weekly.
- Inform seminar faculty of book/media and AccAff budgets. Keep track of expenditures and keep budgets from being overspent.
- Share, with your co-factotums, attendance and participation in the daily, three-hour seminar as a teaching assistant and logistical support for the program.
- Provide teaching and tutoring support to students as needed.

Other Responsibilities

- Strive to enact Telluride Association's commitment to anti-racism, diversity, equity, and inclusion in all activities and duties.
- Support Telluride Association to maintain a safe working environment. Act proactively to prevent accidents and injuries and communicate hazards to supervisors when identified.
